Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from A History of the Great Minnesota Forest Fires: Sandstone, Mission Creek, Hinckley, Pokegama, Skunk Lake IN launching this little volume upon the turbulent sea of an existence which may or may not prove altogether satisfactory, the author feels called upon to state that in this work it is not his aim or desire to make an especially interesting and readable volume, but more particularly to chronicle a few facts in as terse a manner as may be relative to, he thinks without exception, the most horrible calamity which has befallen any portion of the human race in modern times. He desires that what facts be here presents may be absolutely authentic in every detail, and his purpose in giving this work to the public is to place in a concise and readable form a full account of the fire in its awful voracity together with a description of the country over which it passed, and enough personal experiences to give the reader some small idea of the excruciating suffering of the survivors. Also the efforts of a generous people to alleviate their suffering, as well as the heroic efforts of those upon whose courage and strength of character rested the lives of many hundred human beings. Pen cannot picture and tongue cannot tell the whole story. Young men will grow gray and their children gray and still history will hold no parallel to the Hinckley Forest Fires. The Johnstown Tragedy, so-called pales into insignificance beside it, as to the area affected and the amount of property destroyed, if not as to loss of life; and let us hope and pray that from this time on we may be delivered from...
