

Fatal Sellout (Paperback)

By Frank Vilardo

Outskirts Press, United States, 2008. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In this novel we relive the events in the life of Jack Victor, Assistant Professor as he faced a moral dilemma and violated his personal code of ethics. What he subsequently did would result in his untimely death; a result of his fatal selling out of his principles. When Assistant Professor Jack Victor accepted an appointment to the Midland General Hospital Board of Directors merely to gain tenure points he had no idea what was ahead of him. The Hospital's financial experiences of losing money the last five quarters put the Hospital in a precarious position. So when a syndicate led by local physicians offered a bid to purchase the Hospital some board members considered the offer as a way out of the current mess. Jack Victor did not foresee what a tangled web he would be caught in. The resultant vote by the board and its decision left the college professor with feelings of guilt and despair. He no longer was productive and efficient at the University. His increased drinking caused conflicts between him and his wife Gabriella. When things...
